

Joe Eisert has worked on high-stakes environmental and workplace safety matters for over 20 years. A partner in King & Spalding's Environmental, Health and Safety practice, Joe has helped clients handle environmental and workplace safety incidents, enforcement actions, investigations, litigation, and compliance assessments domestically and abroad. A member of the Firm's ESG Task Force, he also advises clients on a range of ESG issues. Joe served in the U.S. Navy's Nuclear Power Program for six years before becoming a lawyer.